Settlement Services International Community Kitchen Evaluation

In 2016, WESTIR Limited undertook an evaluation on the Settlement Services International (SSI) Community Kitchen program in Auburn, Western Sydney. This evaluation assessed the delivery and impact made by the program on its clients and stakeholders. The Community Kitchen is a fortnightly run kitchen that provides a community space for asylum seekers to build their social networks, and provide a space to share their skills and develop a sense of belonging in the SSI community.

WESTIR Ltd wishes to thank the SSI staff, volunteers, and clients involved in the Community Kitchen, who gave up their time to participate in this evaluation. Their insights into the program have informed the recommendations presented, and will continue to provide value to future participants in the program as it develops. WESTIR Ltd also acknowledges the work of the researchers, Alanna Sullivan (primary researcher and author) and Dr Olivia Hamilton (researcher and editor), in producing this report on a pro-bono basis for SSI.

The full evaluation report is not available to the public, however should you have any questions about the project, please contact WESTIR Limited on (02) 9635 7764 or mail@westir.org.au.
